

To the Worthy INHABITANTS of the Parish of St. ANNE, Westminster.

GENTLEMEN,

WHEREAS you have impudently presumed to exercise your Natural Right, by intending to Honour me jointly with Mr. ROSE, whose Merit (if Steadiness is such) may perhaps be deem'd superior to my own; yet I cannot help thus publicly expressing my Displeasure, that you should arrogantly pretend to appoint me a Colleague, and insinuate that I even I Tom T——r, alias Tom T---c---t, alias Tom T--n-ab--t, alias Tom Thumb, had join'd Mr. ROSE, who, I assure you, is no ways related to the Turnabouts or Thumbs: Therefore, pursuant to the Order of that Junto, I do hereby COMMAND you to Vote for Mr. ARNOLD jointly with me; otherwise you will Incur my Highest Displeasure, and may henceforth be branded with the odious Distinction of Men of SPIRIT and Lovers of LIBERTY.

Given under the Seal of the Board of PROSTITUTION and THUMBS, this 16th Day of April, 1750.

\ TOM. THUMB.

☞ Remember HAMLEY.

Q. Whether Mr. Turner's never having an Intention to join Mr. Rose is any Reason, why the Parishioners should not have the Liberty to make that Junction.

Q. Whether Mr. Turner's Dictating your Choice of one particular Person, is not such an INSULT on the FREEDOM of ELECTION, as ought rather to determine you in favour of ANOTHER, and does not proceed from an All-sufficiency in himself.
